

Julio Castro – Professional Biography

The speaker, Julio Castro, is a Regional Sales Director for Pronk Technologies whose responsibilities in sales also include traveling to biomedical associations presenting technical and educational information to the biomedical engineering community. His background is in electronics, whose career started as an electronics technician in 1988 and has held a wide range of positions in the medical industry including service engineer, service manager, and in sales and marketing over the past 25 years.